Keyboard Improv Musical memory refers to the ability to remember music-related information, such as melodic content and other progressions of tones or itches. The differences found between linguistic memory and musical memory have led researchers to theorize that musical memory is encoded differently from language and may constitute an independent part of the phonological loop. Music-related memory - Wikipedia The 4 Different Types of Memory. There are four main areas of memorization. These are: Visual - Our visual memory consists of our mental pictures of the music on the page, our fingers on the fretboard, and any other pictures or images that we associate with the music (real or imagined). Auditory - Our auditory memory is our internal representation of what the piece sounds like. 50 Ways To Test Your Musical Memory - Classical Guitar Shed [\[link\]](#).
